Saints in the Making at St. Joseph Catholic School!

A Note from Mr. Laffey,

We have many reasons to give thanks this May. First and foremost, we give thanks to God for His goodness, His love for us, and for the graces we need to truly live. It is fitting that, this year, the final week of the school coincides with the week that the Church awaits the outpouring of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. As the apostles and first disciples were empowered to go forth spreading the Gospel, St. Joseph's students have been armed with the knowledge of God's love for them and the fruits of wisdom gained through a Catholic education.

We thank the teachers and staff. All of you have come to St. Joseph Catholic School seeking to practice your craft (and it is a craft) of teaching in our Catholic environment. Your commitment and desire to be a beacon of faith and learning to the students and families here is extraordinary, worthy of laud, and deserving of our thanks. We all know just how important teachers are in the life of a child. We admire the sacrifices you make to allow Catholic education to prosper in Enid, Oklahoma. May you enjoy a blessed summer!

Thank you, parents, for believing in St. Joseph Catholic School and helping to create the St. Joseph Family. A child's Catholic education begins with you. You have a challenging obligation to raise your child up in the Christian faith. You have refused to settle with something as important as the education of your child. St. Joseph Catholic School is designed with your wants and needs for your growing family in mind. An education without faith, morality, or a belief in the invaluable worth of each human soul is no education.

Finally we thank the St. Joseph students. You are the reason all of the above mentioned individuals strive for excellence. We have watched you grow physically, emotionally, and spiritually throughout the academic year. You are truly a miracle in the sight of everyone! We say good luck but not good-bye to the graduating students. We pray that your Catholic education gifted to you by your parents and teachers will continue to serve you well wherever God leads you.

Have a great summer! May the love of God be always with you!
